

Economics
School of Louvain

Doctoral course in Economics

2021 - 2022

Semester 1 : September October November December

Semester 2 : January February March April May June

Title	Advanced courses in Economics II
Code course	LECON2702
Professor	Amma Panin
E-mail	amma.panin@uclouvain.be
Agenda	Tuesday – 14:00 – week 8 to 12 Wednesday – 16:15 - week 8 to 11
Abstract	Decision makers care about their own outcomes as well as the outcomes of other people. The question is how to incorporate these preferences into economic models. Simply adding ad-hoc preferences for others' incomes risks economic theories that “explain everything, and therefore, nothing” (Carpenter, 2010). This seminar will focus on advances in economics to measure and model other-regarding social preferences, with applications to labour contracts, political participation, and public policy nudges based on social motivations.

NOTE : if you plan to follow this course, please follow the next steps :

1. Ask the authorization of your thesis director to add this course in your doctoral program
2. Send an e-mail to solange.dujardin@uclouvain.be and geraldine.carette@uclouvain.be to confirm your registration with your Name, the Code of your Program (ECGE3FD or other) and the Code of the Course
3. Put your thesis director and the professor in CC of this e-mail
4. Specify also if you plan to pass the exam or not